Part 3 – aggregate methods

1. Find average salary in company
2. Find minimum earnings of clerks
3. Count, how many employees work in department 20
4. Find average salary for each job
5. Find average salary for each job except managers
6. Find average salary for each job and department
7. Find maximum salary for each job
8. Find average salary for departments with at least 3 employees
9. Find jobs with average salary > 3000
10. Find average salary and annual earnings for each job (remember about commission)
11. Find departments with at least 3 employees
12. Check if all employee numbers are mutually different
13. Find lowest earnings paid by managers to their subordinates. Display manager name, subordinate name and subordinate salary. Sort results ascending by salary
14. Count how many employees work in department located in DALLAS
15. Find highest earnings for each salgrade
16. Find recurring amounts of earnings and display how many employees receive it
17. Find average earnings for employees in second salgrade
18. Find how many subordinates are assigned to each manager. Include employees with no subordinates
19. Display sum of salary in first salgrade